Questions and Answers

Q: When are the abstract proposals due?

A: No later than 4:00 PM, Eastern Daylight Savings Time, Tuesday, July 31, 2007.

Q: What is the overall budget for MINT, and what is the target budget for single proposals?

A: There is no overall budget or proposal target budget. Each proposal should include a budget based on the costs required for that team to achieve the technical milestones of the program. These costs will certainly vary, depending on the methods and approaches taken. Proposals will be selected on the basis of technical merit and with a goal of promoting multiple, complimentary efforts capable of serving a wide array of DoD thermal management challenges.

Q: Are there the limits/restrictions on the number of teams a contractor can be on?

A: There are no restrictions on the teams, member, or leaders.
